Best Methods of Teaching in Country Schools

By G. Dallas Lind

This work is not the fine-spun theory of a college professor, but the practical ideas of a country teacher, fresh from the country school-room.

It is not a mass of "glittering generalities," but suggestions in detail as to how to teach and manage an ungraded school, drawn from long experience and careful observations.

1. It tells how the teacher should conduct himself in relation to his patrons and to society in general.

2. It tells what qualifications are necessary for a good teacher.

3. It tells how to apply for a school.

4. It describes in detail the most approved and applicable methods of teaching all the branches studied in a country school.

5. It gives some very practical hints about apparatus and school architecture.

6. It will give you new insight into your work.

7. It will lead you to see and realize more pleasure and happiness in your teaching than you have ever been able to get out of it before.

8. It will give you the essential principles of practical teaching.

9. It will tell you just what to do and how to do it, so that your work will not only be enjoyable, but profitable.

No book has ever been published containing so many helpful suggestions of vital interest to Teachers of Country Schools.

Teachers of Town and City Schools will also derive much benefit from reading the Chapters on the Methods of Teaching, Reading, Spelling, Arithmetic, Geography, General History, Physiology, Algebra, Natural Science, Morals and Manners.

A sample copy will be sent, postpaid, to any teacher for $1.00 (regular price $1.25).

Psychology as an Aid in Teaching

* * *

That scientific teaching is impossible without a knowledge of Psychology is no longer a debated question. But there is an important question in this connection which has not yet been answered: WHAT BOOK shall the hundreds of thousands of earnest teachers study who have not had the advantages of a college training?

1. Do they need a book which they can understand—a book whose apt illustrations bring abstract truths within the range of universal comprehension?

2. Do they need a book which makes it clear that there are questions which it does not attempt to answer, questions that no elementary text-book can hope to answer, and which will thus stimulate them to further study and further investigation?

3. Do they need a book which is constantly raising questions about their minds and the minds of their pupils—a book which will make them students of their own minds and the minds of their pupils in spite of themselves?

4. Do they need a book which is itself from beginning to end a perfect sample of the inductive method of teaching, beginning with the simple and the known and going to the complex and unknown?

5. Do they need a book which thousands of teachers have declared was the first to interest them in the study of mind?

If so, there is one book that will fully satisfy their needs. That book is Gordy's New Psychology.

If you wish to see for yourself whether it possesses all of these characteristics send for a copy. It will cost you nothing if you do not like it. If you wish to keep it the price is $1.25.

DEDICATION.

To my dear old pupils, who for so many years have walked hand in hand with me, and especially to such of them as are now engaged in teaching or in preparing themselves for this delightful work, this little volume is most affectionately dedicated, by

THE AUTHOR.

PREFATORY.

Pausing at the threshold of perpetuating in covers these "PRESTON PAPERS," the author desires to say that Miss Preston is no ideal teacher, but one well known to both publishers and author, as a bona fide teacher who still lives, works, and enjoys her work, with a zest unknown to mere "machine" teachers. The experiences are real and possibly not unusual, and are offered to the pedagogical fraternity with the hope that they may be suggestive of a "Beyond" in the work.

MISS PRESTON'S ASSISTANT.
