PREFACE

This little contribution to the funds of the Red Cross has already earned between $25,000 and $30,000, the publishers having generously given the profits to this best of causes.

The profits of this American edition will be devoted to the American Red Cross.

The book is the result of many visits to the Western War Fronts and neutral countries. The chapters are very largely composed of telegrams written amidst the "alarums and excursions" of war.
