MY DEAR CHILDREN,

It has pleased God that your dear mother should be called away before you could know her worth. In time to come, if God will, you will think of her gentle ways, as you hear of them from others, or recall them yourselves, (for one of you, at least, will not forget her presence,) but I would not have you depend entirely upon this for what you know of her mind and character. I have taken the following pieces from some which she has left behind, that you may hold converse with her yourselves, and learn to what subjects her thoughts were turned. I have only to add, that, being with her day by day, it was mine to witness how, by the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, sincerity and truth were hers; and

I am, dear Children,
Your affectionate Father,
E. M.
