BRITISH FORESTRY

ITS PRESENT POSITION AND OUT-LOOK AFTER THE WAR. 6s. net

“ Mr. Stebbing writes with authority. He has had experience in other countries, and he is now Master of Forestry in Edinburgh University. He knows what is wrong, as many others know, and his book is written in the hope that it will add strength to the effort now being made to restore to these islands the industry of timber growing. . . . He puts the case extremely well, and he puts it with moderation.”—The Field.
